OCTOBER – DECEMBER 2013

Agriculture Education Day

Dehra Dun, 22 October 2013. The Agriculture Education Day was observed at Central Soil and Water Conservation Research & Training Institute. Dr P.K. Mishra (Director, CSWCR&TI) highlighted the importance of Natural Resource Management, Water Harvesting, Water Use Efficiency and Agricultural Education for achieving sustainability in agriculture and meeting the growing food demand of teeming population of this country. The other scientists spoke on various avenues of agriculture education and numerous job opportunities that are available in this country and abroad. The participants were exposed to the various land degradation processes and the mitigation measures through a documentary film show and a visit to the museum of the institute.
